

16. - 1255: Jealous of the academic success of the religious mendicants, Guillaume de Saint-Amour organized a cabal and riots against them. Saint Thomas defended them in his treatise Contra impugnantes Dei cultum et religionem, addressed to the pope.