

23. - At the table of King St. Louis, St. Thomas became so absorbed in his reflections that he suddenly exclaimed, banging his fist on the table, "Here is an answer to the Manichaeans!" Pulling him by the cope, his prior is obliged to remind him that he is not in the convent, but in the presence of the king of France.